

Invitation to myself to try it in a different way today.

I am responsible form my (negative) feelings!!! I am not responsible for other people's feelings but I will be able to show empathy.
I am not afraid of other people's feelings because being afraid makes me not saying what I want to say. I will think before I talk wich prevents me from being unpolite.
I trust my gut. Before I make a decision I will make sure that it feels right. I won't blame other people for my decisions.
I am not afraid to say „NO“. My „YES“ is worth more if I am able to say no from time to time.
Instead of giving advice, wich prevents people from growing and being responsible, I will ask questions. For example: What have done so far to reach your goal? What do you want to do now? Do you have any ideas so far?
I know what stresses me out and my thinking patterns when it comes to daily challenges.
I do accept what I am not able to change and stay calm (traffic jam). But I will change what I am able to change because I have the power.
I will reward myself for a goal that I have achieved because I am proud of myself!

Every journey begins with the first step...
